ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence.

In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

The Bills were introduced in Lok Sabha in December last year and were almost immediately referred to the Chaudhary-led committee which has been holding consultations with stakeholders for feedback.

Although the draft legislation provides for a one-time measure to bring Lok Sabha and Assembly elections in sync, Chaudhary felt that the committee could make additional recommendations to address how synchronisation should be maintained.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution, those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar (there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale), Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar, there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale, Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence.

In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

The Bills were introduced in Lok Sabha in December last year and were almost immediately referred to the Chaudhary-led committee which has been holding consultations with stakeholders for feedback.

Although the draft legislation provides for a one-time measure to bring Lok Sabha and Assembly elections in sync, Chaudhary felt that the committee could make additional recommendations to address how synchronisation should be maintained.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar (there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale), Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence. In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar, there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale, Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence. In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar, there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale, Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence. In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra. The Bills were introduced in Lok Sabha in December last year and were almost immediately referred to the Chaudhary-led committee which has been holding consultations with stakeholders for feedback. Although the draft legislation provides for a one-time measure to bring Lok Sabha and Assembly elections in sync, Chaudhary felt that the committee could make additional recommendations to address how synchronisation should be maintained.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution, those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar, there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale, Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding." "I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence. In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units. The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar, there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale, Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding." "I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence.

In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

The Bills were introduced in Lok Sabha in December last year and were almost immediately referred to the Chaudhary-led committee which has been holding consultations with stakeholders for feedback.

Although the draft legislation provides for a one-time measure to bring Lok Sabha and Assembly elections in sync, Chaudhary felt that the committee could make additional recommendations to address how synchronisation should be maintained.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held within the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar (there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale), Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence.

In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

The Bills were introduced in Lok Sabha in December last year and were almost immediately referred to the Chaudhary-led committee which has been holding consultations with stakeholders for feedback.

Although the draft legislation provides for a one-time measure to bring Lok Sabha and Assembly elections in sync, Chaudhary felt that the committee could make additional recommendations to address how synchronisation should be maintained.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held within the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar (there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale), Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence. In an interview, Chaudhary, responding to a question on how long it would take the committee to finalise its recommendations, said members had unanimously decided to visit all states and Union Territories — a process that would take about two to two-and-a-half years. So far, the committee has visited two states: Uttarakhand and Maharashtra.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it would be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar, there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale, Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.

ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION: PANEL MAY GO BEYOND DRAFT LAW

'2034 is earliest for joint polls under existing Bill'

DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, June 8

PP CHAUDHARY, BJP MP and chairman of the Joint Committee of Parliament on Bills relating to 'One Nation, One Election', has said the earliest that simultaneous elections can be held under the existing Bills is 2034, and the committee may go beyond the draft law to suggest ways to keep polls aligned, including recommending a provision for a constructive or positive vote of no-confidence.

One such suggestion could be a constructive vote of no-confidence which, as is the case in Germany, requires members of a legislature who bring a no-confidence motion against a government to have the numbers to form the government instead. Asked when the first simultaneous elections would be held, he said: "The committee will deliberate; Parliament will decide. We can't say when, but the Bill says the first session of Parliament, if it happens with the appointed date, then it will be from 2034."

The Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024 and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment Bill), 2024 provide for simultaneous elections to the Lok Sabha and Assemblies. If passed, the Bills provide for the President notifying the appointed date on the first sitting of a newly-elected Lok Sabha and every state or UT Assembly elected after that appointed date would have its term curtailed to align with the Lok Sabha. This would provide for simultaneous elections to be held when the five-year term of the Lok Sabha ends. The Bills also provide for elections to be held for the remainder term in case a government falls before the five-year term.

Asked what would happen if a Lok Sabha or Assembly election returns a hung verdict or if a Union or state government falls, Chaudhary said: "The Constitution does not mention no-confidence motion even now; it is governed by Rule 198 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha. We can bring in some provisions for stability. We can recommend new provisions in the Constitution." He said the committee could deliberate on the issue and it was for Parliament to decide.

"If some impediments are there in the Constitution,

those impediments may be redressed after discussion with all the members. Constructive no-confidence motion, like the German model, can be discussed. Once you bring a no-confidence motion, then at the same time, you should bring a confidence motion. In the rarest of rare situations, the Leader of the House can be elected on the floor of the House like the Speaker is. But, this situation will not arise. We have seen that the electorate does not support those who bring a no-confidence motion," he said.

Bajaj plans cheaper 125cc motorcycle

ACCORDING TO SOCIETY of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) data, the 110-125cc segment — with best-sellers like the Honda Shine and Pulsar 125 — grew 13% to 3.6 million units in FY25. The 125cc to 150cc segment led all categories with a 35% growth, closing the year at 722,000 units.

The entry-level segment, below 110cc, saw no growth and ended FY25 with volumes of 5.65 million units. Hero MotoCorp, holding a 79% share of this segment, recorded just 1% volume growth during the year. Bajaj noted that the 125cc segment has now matched the mid-100cc segment in size.

When asked if the entry-level 125cc segment will sport a new brand or if it will be yet another Pulsar (there are already three 125cc Pulsar models on sale), Sharma said, "So that question is still open. As the product acquires its specifications and its full form, we will decide on the branding."

"I can say that the 125cc segment, in particular, not the 125cc+, the 125cc segment is almost now equal to the executive 100cc segment, which is like 28% of the Indian motorcycle industry. And we can see two or three sub-segments emerging over here," Sharma added.
